All the information will be saved in memory after the user clicks the ‘Next’ button that will be used in the following steps.

The ‘Previous’ button is disabled on the page because this page is the first step of booking.

The Second Step of Booking: Choosing Seat on A Boat

The booking and contact information will be displayed at the top of the page.

At this step, the user will choose their seats on the boat they chose in the previous step.

If the user chooses a seat on the boat's layout, the seat number and price will be displayed on the bottom right of the page. As well as the subtotal will also be displayed there.

The price of each seat is different. The first two rows are $30.00, the following three are $25.00, and the rest seats are $20.00. The subtotal will be calculated dynamically based on the seats the user selects.

All seats will be filled in different colors to presentative different meanings. Green means the seat is available for the user. Blue is that seats have been chosen by other users, which means those seats are unavailable for the current user. Dark red means the seats have been chosen by the current user, who cannot choose repeatedly.

Light red is selected seats by the current user so that all light red seats will be displayed on the bottom right of the page. If the user clicks the light red seat, the seat will be back to green and removed from the choose seat list. Furthermore, the subtotal will be calculated again.

All seats the user selected will be saved in memory if the user clicks the ‘Next’ button that will be used in the following steps.

If the user clicks the ‘Previous’ button, the wizard page will return to the basic information page, where the user can modify their information.
